GEORGE FRANCIS TRAIN.

The Inquiry Into His Sanity or Insanity---The Doctors' Testimony.

GEORGE'S PROPHECY IN THE TOMBS.

The inquiry into the sanity or insanity of Georg Francis Train was commerced yesterday afternoon at four o'clock before Chief Justice Daly, of the Common Picas, and a jury. It will be remembered that Train was indicted some four months ago for publishing in the Train Lique obscene articles. He was subsequently arrested on a bench warrant to await trial, and was con ned in the Tombs. The offence was ballable; but the indomitable George would give no bail, accept no bail, and it was supposed that be would not even accept the good offices of an angel if one had come down from heaven and told him to go free. In the Tombs he would be; and the question arose, How was he to be got rid of? Common report said he was as mad as a March hare. District Attorney Phelps thought so, and in this he was confirmed by the result of a medical examination which he had eid on nim. The doctors reported him mad, and this led to the inquirendo de lunatico now being

The Court sat at lour o'clock. It was then crowded in anticipation of the advent of George, soon after made his appearance, carrying a great sealskin coat over his arm, his closely fitting coat buttoned up to the chin, and a great nosegay within a point of his nose. He looked a little fushed at fl st but subsequently cooled down, and and repellent in look, whom morbid curiosity brought there, besides his friends, George Jones, General Jobson, and any other half dozen or so George's eye might have scanned in the crowd, looked as mad as he.

The following is the oath taken by the jurors in the case:

The following is the oath taken by the jurors in the case:—
You do solemnly swear that you will diligently inquire and here presentment make, for and on behalf of the people of the State of New York, whether George Francis Train, the prisoner at the bar, who stands indicted for misdemeanor, be of sound mind and understanding or not, and a true yerdict give, &c., &c.

OATH TO WITNESSES.

You do solemnly swear that the evidence you shalf give to the Court and jury touching the alleged insanity of George Francis Train, the prisoner at the bar, and of all such matters and things as shall be required of you in the premises, shall be the truth, &c.

OPENING THE CASE.

alleged insanity of George Francis Tram, the prisoner at the bar, and of all such matters and things as shall be required of you in the premises, shall be the truth, &c.

District Attorney Pheips opened the case, explaining to the jury the peculiar character of the circumstances surrounding it. That originality, George Francis Train, the deiendant, had been indicted for a misdemeanor, a bailable offence, in publishing obscene literature, consisting of articles which had appeared in a paper called the Train Lique. The jury were, no doubt, conversant, to some extent, with the public feeling excited by the publication of the articles in question. They were of a character which called for the prosecution of the party publishing them, and to that end the prisoner. Train, was indicted for the prosecution of the party publishing them, and to that end the prisoner. Train, was indicted for the offence. Some lour months ago the prisoner was indicted, and was put into prison pending a trial. As before said, it was a bailable offence, but Mr. Train would give no bail, and refused bail when offered by his friends, preferring to remain in jail. He (District Attorney) had received sundry intimations of the condition of Mr. Train's mind; that it was a question whether he was sane or insane, and whether, in fact, he ought to be put upon his trial upon the indictment against him. To ascertain this fact he had been medically examined, and the result of that examination would be detailed to them by the medical experts.

THE TESTIMONY.

Dr. Thaddeus M. B. Cross, residing in the city, testified—Was connected with the hospitals in this city for the treatment of nervous complaints; had devoted himself to the question of insanity especially—to the diseases of the mind and the nervous complaints; had devoted himself to the question of insanity especially—to the diseases of the mind in all its phases; was called as an expert on trials involving these questions; intellectual insanity is an unsound state of mind, a deuision of the mind, ou

Q. What was, and is now, your opinion of his condition from these utterances?

Mr. Mott objected. He argued that the whole scope of the inquiry was whether Mr. Train was sane or insane on the particular subject which was the ground of the indictment, and all questions as to his sanity or insanity outside of that were not germane to the present inquiry. Counsel referred to the case of Freeman.

The Court said—The inquiry is whether the prisoner is insane or not, and I propose to make the inquiry as comprehensive as possible, and not limit it to any particular course of examination until after the question is passed upon by the jury.

nntil after the question is passed upon by the jury.

Mr. Bell—An expert cannot give a general opinion as to insanity, but can state the effect produced upon the mind by the conversation and demeanor of the accused.

The Court—That is all that is asked for by the question. Answer the question.
Witness—I should say that he was of unsound mind,

Mr. Phelps put in a copy of the Toledo Sun, containing an article which Train admitted was written by him.

Mr. Bell—If that article goes in evidence, Mr. Train desires that it shall be read in Court.

Mr. Phelps objected to the reading of the article as improper and indecent writing.

The Court directed that the paper stand over for the present.

Witness—When speaking of Grant and Greeley, Train said that there were three millions and a haif of dead beats and three millions going to the graveyard; he said that Dr. Durant owed him $40,000, and that he was paying him 18 per cent; he said that all the banks and institutions in Wall street were rotter; that there was no money at all in the country; that everything would go up shortly, and that the streets would run with blood.

J. Do you know whether that was false or not?

A I do not know anything about it.

Q. Some banks have gone up since? A. I don't know.

Q. Some banks have gone up since? A. I don't know.
Q. What did he say about his property at Omaha?
A. He had a map hanging over his bed in his cell, and he pointed out on it some thousands of lots that he said he owned there; he also said he was an athelse.

Chief Justice Daly briefly examined the witness merely with a view to make the evidence as clear as possible to the jury.

The court adjourned at half-past six till four D'clock this evening.

BROOKLYN BURGLARY AND ARSON.

Within the past twenty-four hours two cases of arson have been reported and investigated by the Fire Marshal of Brooklyn—the first on Fulton avenue and the last on De Kalb avenue. The investi-gations made have failed to throw the least light on the guilty incendiaries. The three story frame structure 892 De Kalb avenue, the lower floor of which is occupied as a liquor store by Hermann Peters, was set on fire about two o'clock yesterday morning. The incendiaries effected an entrance to the building by forcing epen the windows in the rear of the store. Upon entering the rascais helped themselves to a dozen bottles of brandy, several bottles of port, sherry and Rhine wines, schnapps, rum, cigars and a couple of pigeons. They also carried eff a quantity of clething. Before leaving, however, they saturated a coat and pants with kerosene, which material they ignited and threw behind the bar. In the rear apartment of the store shavings were gathered and drenched with the same inflammable oil. When this material was ablaze the scoundrels escaped. Fortunately the fire was discovered and extinguished before it had gained much headway, thereby doubtless preventing the sacrifice of life, as there were several tenants asleep, in fancied security, in the upper part of the house. The "police are looking after" the perpetrators of this outrageous piece of vandalism. The house is owned by a Mrs. Anderson, of New York.

THE LATE BROOKLYN WIFE MURDER.

The inquest over the body of Mrs. Margaret Moran, who died on Friday night last, at 28 North Portland avenue, from the effects of maltreatment alleged to have been received at the hands of her husband, Thomas Moran, was adjourned from yes-terday until to-morrow afternoon. Coroner White-hill took this course at the request of the counse; for prisoner, who objected to taking testimony in the case in the absence of the accused, who had not been conducted to the Coroner's office, through some oversight. THE WAR IN LOUISIANA.

Grant Parish Firmly Held 6," the Negross-Not a White Person Within Twenty Miles of Colfax-Picket Lines

Established.

¡From the New Orleans Picayune, April 11.

The steamboat B. L. Hodge, Captain Hienn, from Grand Ecore, arrived last night about nine o'clock, and from the odicers and passengers on the boat we glean the following information:

When they passed Alexandria yesterday, about twelve o'clock M., the negroes were still in pessession of Coliax, with renewed confidence and determination, as the whites had made no attack. It appears that the whire men of the parish had formed three parties to consolidate and make the attack; one the Hadnot party, the others the Montgomery and Alexandria parties. The Alexandria party, numbering only thirty-seven men strong, started out to meet the other two parties, but from some cause they failed to join each other and the Alexandria party were compelled to return to their homes.

The negroes have rickets out for twenty miles—some cause they failed to join each other and the Alexandria party were compelled to return to their homes.

The negroes have pickets out for twenty miles—some say more—and about four hundred of them are quartered in Calhoun's sugar house, well armed and thoroughly organized.

There seems to be no further disposition on the part of the whites to essay another attack, as they are not of sumicient force to cope with the negroes as yet. Mr. Henry Hyams, son of ex-Governor Hyams, and the two Mr. Hickmans came down on the boat, all of whom were compelled (fearing for the satety of their lives) to leave Colfax. One passenger stated to us that the entire way down from Campte to Montgomery the banks of the river were lined with negro women and children, seeming to be in the deepest distress, who were arraid to return to their homes.

No ireight could be put out at Colfax, and in fact the owners of ireight desired that it should not be landed, knowing that it would be immediately destroyed.

Calhoun, who was taken off the La Belle a few days ago at Alexandria, is now at large in that place, evidently without any lear of moiestation. The people treat him with indifference, but no violence has been shown him.

We are positively assured that there is not a white person within twenty miles or more of Colfax.

what the end of this terrible affair will be we cannot now speculate, unless the much-gloried Keilorg militia goes to the scene of disturbance and quiets the outrages. [From the Alexandria Democrat, April 9.]

[From the Alexandria Democrat, April 9.]
Our community have been in a great state of excitement, backed by all sorts of wild rumors that have been waited from irrepressible Colfax every hour in the day since our last issue. Up to writing this article, Tuesday morning, all we can glean with any certainty of truth, we give to the glean with any certainty of truth, we give to the public.

The negroes of Colfax, proverbially a bad and turbulent set, led by a few bad, very bed men, have taken entire and forcible possession of the Court House and archives of the parish of Grant, and driven off violently every decent white man, and have turned the town into an intrenched military camp, with pickets and outposts commanding all the roads leading thereto.

What their avowed purposes were and what legal objects they have in view, or their excuses for such shameful proceedings, we fall to divine. We give facts as we receive them and until further developments forbear comments. Suffice to say that thus far they have perpetrated many base and inhuman outrages.

we give lacts as we receive them and until introder developments forbear comments. Suffice to say that thus far they have perpetrated many base and inhuman outrages.

Three or four families of whites have been forced to abandon their homes, and fied here from danger and for protection, and are yet here. A large armed crowd went to the house of Judge Rulland, who had been previously driven away, searched and ransacked the house, destroyed the furniture and broke open a coffin containing the remains of a child of the Judge's and threw its dead body into the road! An agent of Wheeler & Wilson, a gentleman well known here, was on a tour selling their sewing machines, drove into Colfax to pursue his legitimate calling, when he was rudely approached and one of his sewing machines violently taken from him, and was told by the mob he could leave and be glad he fared no worse and was let off so cheap and easy. As he retired in somewhat of a hurry, a volley was fired after him. They have been pressing horses and provisions many miles from Colfax, and are even forcing good and peaceful negroes to join. Work of all kinds for many miles around has stopped, for all the laborers have gone to the seat of war. An armed crowd of thirty went to the house of W. J. Cruikshank and took from Lewis F. Amelong, one of the best and most peaceable citizens, his horse, and lorced him to go into the house and get his gun and nead it to them. They then went off a la milliaire in search of other booty.

These statements are all facts, and we give them as such. Many other rumors of base outrages have reached us, but we forbear for the present making note of them. What all this will lead to or how end we are at a loss to say, but look upon it as the legitimate fruits and teachings of radicalism in Louisiana. The end is not yet.
